inary. The Chicago church last served is a union of two churches, Evangelical and Presbyterian. Mr. Riemann has held several administrative positions in his denomination and in the communities in which he has had residence. He enjoys both city and country life and comes to the Mokena church with the best of recommendations.

The new pastor and his family will reside in the parsonage provided by the church which has been extensively improved while it stood vacant.

Installation services will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 with a reception of welcome following in the basement of the church. Rev. Karl H. Meyer of Grace Evangelical church, Chicago who is the recording secretary of the North Illinois Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed churches, will preach the sermon and officiate in the rite of installation.

The public is cordially invited to attend these installation services.

MOKENA GARDEN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Mokena Garden club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. Gunhouse. Mrs. Anton Benson, Civic chairman gave a report on work done the past month.

The grass at Pioneer Cemetery was cut and shrubs cared for and a bill presented to the Garden Club for payment. As in previous years, members of the Club placed bouquets of cut flowers on each grave Memorial Day. Due to the shortage of the desired variety of plants at that time it was voted to purchase and plant these plants as soon as they can be obtained.

Weather conditions and shortage of help and mower prevented the cutting of grass at the church plot up to this time. The Rock Island grounds planted by the Club has been water soaked. But it was made presentable thru the help of Anton Benson, Albert Braun, Harry Schoen, Clint Kraus and Gerald Dunn. The Club greatly appreciates this help.

Since the object of the club has always been beautification of our town's unsightly plots, we appreciate any and all help given toward this work.

TINLEY PARK WOMAN'S CLUB OFFERS ESSAY CONTEST

The Literary department of the Tinley Park Woman's Club thru its chairman Mrs. Roy Hannum, during the year offered an essay contest for pupils of the 7th and 8th grades, the subject being: The Favorite American. Miss June Koehler student of Trinity Lutheran school, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koehler of Tinley entered this contest and won honorable mention in the Third district.

Mrs. Hannum, in behalf of the Woman's Club presented Miss Koehler with a very fine book, a text book on Biographies which will be a great help to her for many years to come.

Another Tinley Park school pupil, Inner, Richard Bernardini, who entered the art contest of the Woman's club and was a winner in both district and state was presented with a splendid box of water color paints and a bundle of art paper by Mrs. Harry Beggs in behalf of the Woman's club.

Hundreds At New Lenox and Frankfort Memorial Exercises

Several hundred people attended the annual Memorial Day services held in the New Lenox school gym Monday morning, with Victor Moore principal of the New Lenox school serving as Master of Ceremonies. Rev. Father Roman of St. Jude's church offered the invocation. Miss Mary Jane Gougar read the roll call. The Wm. Martinson VFW Post No. 725 participated in the program. At the completion of the exercises, a parade was formed and marched to Maplewood cemetery where the school children decorated the soldier graves with flags and flowers. Rev. Thos. Hagood, pastor of the Marley Methodist church as principal orator. At the cenotaph in the Maplewood cemetery. At the close of the address E. J. Hobson fired a salute. In the afternoon the soldiers graves in Marshall cemetery in New Lenox township were decorated.

A colorful parade, led by the members of the American Legion, Rehfeldt Meyer Post 474 and Ladies Aux. of Matteson marked the beginning of the Memorial Day services held in Frankfort Monday afternoon. Others participating were the Frankfort Band, school children carrying flowers and flags for soldiers' graves, members of the village board and speakers. A short service was conducted at Pleasant Hill cemetery with Rev. Malek of the Frankfort Methodist church as principal speaker. Village President Geo. Sangmeister read the roll call and members of the Legion Post fired a salute which was followed by taps. After the school children's song and the decoration of graves, the line of march proceeded to the village hall where a large audience had gathered to witness the flag raising.

The new American flag presented by Luhring and Lambrecht, and the service flag presented by the Victory club were raised by the Legionnaires following the call to the colors played by Dick Lambrecht. Members of the Victory Club led the pledge to the flag and the honor roll was then unveiled by Lt. Wilbur Kuester of the Army Air Corps.

The following names were read by village President Geo. Sangmeister: Wm. Batson, Geo. Baughan, Ted Bogdon, Lloyd Brandan, Dr. M. Buckley, Russell and Donald Carroll, Walter Cheney, Harold Deist, Daniel Emily, Eugene and Ray Eisenbrandt, Arthur Fleck, Delmar Genens, Paul Gerhold, Grant Geuther, Conrad and Walter Haakinson, Darrell Haas, Wilbur Kuester, Clarence Klepper, Irving Knight, Lloyd Luhring, Robt. Mitchell, Everett Nissen, Kenneth Smith, Howard Seeman, Raymond Oetter, James Raffauf, Lambert Vollrath and Fred Weitendorf.

Mr. Sangmeister paid tribute to the boys whose names he read and the school children accompanied by Miss Annette Kohlhausen sang, Let's Bring New Glory to Old Glory.

"Meaning of Memorial Day" was the title of an inspiring address by Rev. Erich Bizer of St. Peter's Evang. church. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Malek.

Mrs. George Andrew and Miss Florence Hollstein of the Frankfort Red Cross distributed roses to mothers for whom a special section was reserved to the left of the speakers platform. Mr. Sangmeister was general chairman and wishes to thank all the committee who worked with him.

MOKENA MEMORIAL SERVICES VERY POORLY ATTENDED

The Memorial Day services sponsored by the Mokena Civic Association and held in the Mokena school gym Sunday afternoon were very poorly attended, in fact the smallest crowd in years was noted.

A very fine program was presented with Att. Chas. B. Elder as master of ceremonies. Rev. Rudolf Malek, pastor of Frankfort Methodist church gave a very fine address. Rev. Mr. Malek is a world traveler and has visited in the various countries now involved in war and gave a graphic portrayal of the underlying reasons which brought on the second world war. He warned against the evil effects of communism and of the intrigues and treachery of the diplomats of the old world.

Cpl. Richard Kohl who was home on a furlough, was present and was given a place of honor on the speakers platform.

When Editor Wm. Semmler read the roll call it was noted that the roll now has 17 soldiers names on it, the latest one being that of Joseph Hayden of World War I. Mr. Hayden died the forepart of this year.

The Mokena school band added greatly to the program in a number of selections rendered in a very good manner.

The Boy and Girl Scouts and members of the Red Cross chapter and members of the Civic Association were in attendance.

Father Arthur of the St. Mary's Catholic church offered the invocation and benediction.

The soldier graves in the St. John the Pioneer Memorial and St. Mary's cemeteries were decorated with flowers and flags Saturday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Semmler assisted by Boy Scouts Billy Steen and Thomas Gunhouse.

Frankfort Student Wins Art Prize

Miss Corinne Krusemark, Frankfort, a senior in the College of Fine and Applied Arts at the University of Illinois, has been given the Vanderpool Award in Painting, a prize of $25 awarded each year to the student showing the most promise in the field of painting.

Miss Krusemark is a member of Delta Delta Delta Social Sorority at the University.

FRANKFORT STUDENTS GRADUATED LAST FRIDAY

Graduation exercises were held in the gym of the Frankfort school Friday evening and diplomas were given to the following students: Frank Folkers, Faye June Oetter, Geo. Folkers, Melvin Eisenbrandt, Ruth Minger, Jean Genens, Virginia Phelps, Clair Warning, Richard Lambrecht, Kenneth Waldvogel, Sterling Higley and James DeVries. The class motto is: There is No Elevator to Success. The colors, maroon and gold and the flowers, roses and sweet peas.

The program was opened with the procession by Rodger Hedges, pianist, and the invocation by Rev. Rudolf Malek of the Frankfort Methodist church. The audience joined in the salute to the flag and sang the National Anthem.

Herbert Folkers, clerk of the school board presented the diplomas and introduced the speaker Dr. Gayle Hufford, superintendent of Joliet Grade Schools. His talk, directed to the eighth graders was entitled, The World You Are Facing. He pointed out the necessity of these children to continue their education in order to meet the competition they will face when men now in the service of their country return to their places highly skilled, better educated and more physically fit than they were before. Frank Folkers, president of the class responded, thanking the speaker, the school board and faculty.

Chosen by members of the seventh and eighth grades for character, honor, courage, companionship, scholarship service and leadership, Faye June Oetter and Melvin Eisenbrandt were the winners of the American Legion Award presented by J. Deporto representative of Rehfeldt-Meyers Post 474 of the American Legion.

Commencement Day was sung by the class, accompanied by Roger Hedges. Miss Annette Kohlhausen accompanied the school children who sang Farewell, and the audience who sang God Bless America. Rev. Erich Bizer of St. Peter's Evang. church pronounced the benediction.

Members of the faculty of the school are: Miss Viola Lankenau, principal, Mrs. Henry Heisner, Intermediate room. Miss Annette Kohlhausen primary room. R. C. Flagg, H. P. Folkers and Lester Gay are serving as the board of directors.

ELMIRA MCGOVNEY RESIGNS AS MOKENA VILLAGE TREAS. GEO. KNUDSON APPOINTED

Miss Elmira McGovney, who has served as village treasurer of Mokena for the past four years, tendered her resignation to be effective June 30th of this year, at the meeting of the Mokena village board Tuesday evening and the board accepted her resignation and extended a vote of thanks for the very efficient service she has rendered.

Geo. Knudson, former highway commissioner of Frankfort Township was appointed village treasurer of the village board and will take over the office July first.

ORLAND BOOSTERS BALL GAMED RAINED OUT SUN.

The Orland Park Boosters and the baseball fans were very much disappointed when the much advertised game between the famed Zulu Clowns and the Booster team which was to have been played on the Orland Park diamond was rained out by a very heavy downpour just about the time the game was to start.

This coming Sunday afternoon the Chicago Flat Janitors team was scheduled to play the Boosters at Orland, but again the jinx interfered and the Boosters were notified the Chicago team would not be here Sunday so in order not to disappoint the ball fans, it was finally arranged to play the Lemont ball team at Lemont If It Don't Rain.

The Boosters and fans are keenly looking forward to the forthcoming big game with the crack Oak Lawn team to be played at Orland Sunday afternoon, June 13 the weather permitting. This will be one of the outstanding games of the baseball season. Be sure to see this game.

FREDERICK WHITLARK, MOKENA COMMISSIONED

Frederick Louis Whitlark of Mokena has recently been commissioned as Ensign H-V (P) in the US Naval Reserve. He will enter Illinois Medical school in Chicago the latter part of June under the Navy College program. He received the Adam Award at Joliet Junior College last year and will graduate this year as the leader of the Honor Roll with an A plus average.

Mokena Luth. Church Installs Pastor

Rev. Mr. Gode, the new pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church of Mokena, was formally installed at a special installation service held in the church last Sunday afternoon.

TINLEY PARK SOCKFEST ATTENDED BY HUNDREDS

Over 300 people attended the Sockfest and old time dance sponsored by the Men's club of the St. Geo. parish of Tinley Park which was held at the Sanger hall last Saturday night. The boxing arena was set up in the center of the hall with ringside seats placed around it. The Bremen Township VFW Post 2791 and the Women's Auxiliary of the same post, Blue Island Five and Drum corps furnished the musical part of the program. The evenings entertainment was opened by Posting of the Colors by the Post Color Guard.

The bouts were judged by Pvt. Edw. Nugent and A. J. Burke. Sgt. Dan Barrett of the County police served as timer. Joe E. White, a member of the Illinois boxing commission was the referee. There were three bouts, the first between Lloyd Watts, CYO champion who defeated Pete Dessmone, 120 lb. weight. Second bout, Sam Washington defeated Dick McAllister, 147 lb. weight. In the third and final bout Abraham Lee, the Chinese Sensation defeated Geo. Bowlware, 135 lb. weight.

As a take off there was a comical boxing match between two colored gents from the stock yards district.

The final feature in the boxing arena was a hog calling contest in which John Hotchkin, President of the Men's Club of St. Geo. Parish, Edw. Schilling, Carl Vogt, Police Chief C. A. Steinhagen, Wm. Stege, Emil Kampe, Louis Wilson and Wm. Hotchkin participated. The winner was Carl Vogt who was presented with a cute little baby pig doll up with ribbons and a leash as a prize for the event.

Sgt. Norman Hansen, who served as a Technical Sergeant in World War I and who recently re-enlisted was present and given a big ovation. Lou Rodzienda, boxing director of the CYO of Chicago was also in attendance. A $25.00 cash prize was won by a young lady from Tinley Park but after receiving her award she slipped away so quickly that the committee directing the Sock fest was unable to learn her name.

Those in charge of the Sockfest and Dance are W. A. Kopp, chairman, Attorney F. A. Harper, Curtis Miller. They report the affair a real financial success and after the expenses were paid they turned over $150 in cash to the USO fund in Chicago and also turned in quite a substantial amount to the Tinley Park Citizens Service Committee.

Mr. Kopp and the co-members of his committee wish to express their heart felt appreciation and thanks of the Men's Club to the following for services rendered: Roy Andrews Wm. Wilkins, Chas. Hollwedel, Henry Boldt, Sgt. Dan Barrett of the Highway police, Dr. Carmichael, Henry Bettenhausen.

The committee especially thanks the Tinley Park Times for their excellent publicity campaign and also radio station WCLS in Joliet for broadcasting publicity regarding the affair.

MENINGITIS CASE REPORTED AT NEW LENOX

A case of meningitis developed in New Lenox the past week when Gene Novak, 11 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Novak, was stricken with the malady and was taken to Silver Creek hospital.

The child took ill last Friday and continued to grow worse until Tuesday when it was deemed necessary to take the little patient to the hospital.

Frankfort Doctor Here 35 Years Takes on Assistant

Dr. Walter V. Hedges, well known physician and surgeon in this territory who has been located in Frankfort for the past 35 years, has taken into his practice, beginning June 1st, Dr. Raymond Hiroshige, who with his charming wife have moved into the Henry Breidert flat in Frankfort.

Dr. Hiroshige is a very talented young man of 32 years, and was born in Hawaii. He received his M.

Dr. W. V. Hedges

D. degree from the University of Oregon and his B. A. degree from the Creighton University. He served his internship at the hospital in Council Bluffs, Iowa and since June 1942 has been House Physician at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet.

Dr. Hiroshige is very proficient in laboratory and diagnosis work and comes highly recommended.

And of Dr. Hedges, we could write a book also and call it "The Country Doctor" if his experiences in this territory were recorded. Experiences, happy, sad, thrilling and satisfying, and maybe a few regrets, for such are the reactions we all have, especially when an active life is lived, such as a doctor who takes his work and patients to heart and sincerely endeavors to do his best. For in thirty-five years of that many winters and summers, it means that many snow drifts gone thru, and dug out of also; that many hot summer days to be pleasant when all the patients are complaining about the weather and doing nothing about it, unless sometimes it might be, "going to the doctor."

Dr. Hedges was born in Fairbault, Minn., and was graduated from the University in that State. He received further degrees at the Hahnemann Medical College in Chicago in 1907. He served his internship at the Chicago Memorial hospital and at the completion of same, he associated himself with Dr. Frank Wieland, in Chicago with whom he stayed until his health broke. No wonder for the many years of hard work in college and with an active ambition upon the completion of college work, especially so, for a young man of but 23 years was too much of a strain.

Then it was that the thought of a small town, with its peaceful and quiet regular life appealed to this young doctor, as a restorative of his health.

At that time Dr. Hamlin who had served Frankfort for many years, had passed from the scene and Dr. Hedges took over this practice and purchased the Hamlin home and located in Frankfort July 5, 1908, where with his wife and twin sons Allen and Roger, he still lives.

When Dr. Hedges came to Frankfort, he had decided to stay just a few years, but his success in his work in those first years, was so outstanding, that soon this "young doctor's" reputation was heralded far and wide and his practice grew until he suddenly realized he had no time nor inclination now, to return to the city. His stay in Frankfort now is permanent and he says he expects to practice for the next 35 years also.

During this time, Dr. Hedges has ushered into this world two generations and expects to officiate at the third generation's entrance. And, although his step is not quite so quick, and maybe his shoulders do droop a bit, he is still in fine physical condition and alert of mind and can spin as many yarns, and O yes we must not forget cuss sometimes, or are we wrong on that point?

So to the "Country Doctor" we extend congratulations, and to the new doctor, we say, welcome.

FIRE DESTROYS SMALL BUILDING

A fire of unknown origin broke out on the former Livings Farm southeast of Mokena Friday evening. A small building was destroyed.

OVER 400 DONORS HAVE SO FAR REGISTERED

The Mobile unit of the Red Cross Blood bank will operate Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in the public school in Tinley Park to serve the entire community, comprising the villages of Frankfort, Lincoln Estates, MacArthur, Midlothian, Oak Forest, Orland Park Tinley Park and the intervening farms.

More than four hundred patriotic volunteers have offered to share their blood in order that the lives of some of our wounded and sick boys may be saved. Each one of the villages and farm communities is well represented in the list of volunteers, and this is another clear indication that the responsibility for the full support of our war effort is felt and willingly shared by all of our people everywhere.

Now, a word to the prospective donors: By this time you have, no doubt, received a card telling you the exact time of your appointment. It cannot be stressed too strongly that each one of you be on time. The Red Cross has promised the United States Army a large number of blood donations, and in order to fill its commitments, each unit must operate 100 percent. If you are late it is possible that the entire unit will be idle and that time will be lost.

The food restrictions should be followed to the letter for the reason that the plasma cannot be used and the blood donation will have been wasted if any fats have been eaten within 4 hours prior to your appointment. However, it is important that you eat. Fat free foods such as those recommended on your card can be eaten at any time.

There is another point which should be impressed upon each and every one of you. It should be remembered that 2,000,000 persons have already donated blood and so far there has not been a single casualty. Therefore, there is no occasion for nervousness on your part.

In brief, be sure to follow the food regulations and be prompt for your appointment. Just carry in your mind that you may be the means of saving the life of your boy or your neighbor's boy, and that your help may bring him home, when he otherwise would surely die.

TO REPAIR MOKENA STREETS

The village of Mokena has encountered much difficulty, with washed out streets and broken drain tile. At the meeting of the village board Tuesday night it was stated that the lack of labor makes it almost impossible to do any repair work, but the board decided to make a survey of what work has to be done and to make an effort to get whatever labor can be found to do the needed work.

Death, Destruction, From Six-State Flood

Rushing water from rivers swollen by several days of incessant rain overflows onto six midwestern states. Thousands of persons in the inundated areas were left homeless by the flood, and so much planting has been ruined that food production in the area is seriously threatened. Allies Walk In: Persecutions Ended

Hated Nazi badges of persecution are torn from their clothes by these Jewish boys in Kairouan, Tunisia, as British soldiers, who liberated the youths, observe one of the effects of the Allied victory there. These boys were forced to work for the Germans without pay and also were made to wear a Star of David to distinguish them from non-Jewish workers.

MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT

Certain senators who have been working backstage for a streamlined "war cabinet" got some interesting ammunition when they cross-examined one of the President's close associates at a closed-door committee meeting.

They learned that cabinet meetings, except for an increase in the number of participants, still are being conducted on an informal, crack-barrel basis, with no plan or system.

The weekly meetings are conducted without an agenda. Cabinet officers and agency heads never know what will be discussed from week to week, frequently come unprepared for policy questions that affect them.

Senators who have been digging into the matter feel that the White House secretariat should contact department and agency heads several days before a cabinet meeting to learn what problems they want to discuss with the President. On the basis of this, as well as matters the President himself intends to bring up, an advance memorandum could be prepared and distributed before the meeting.

Besides regular cabinet officers, there are usually a dozen other top government officials at White House sessions, including Harry Hopkins, Manpower Chief Paul McNutt, WPB Chief Donald Nelson, Farm Czar Chester Davis, Economic Stabilizer James Byrnes, Admiral William D. Leahy.

Time was when disputes between departments and agencies were ironed out at a cabinet meeting, but not now. Even disputes affecting major military and domestic policies are passed over. Favorite trick of department heads, who have a ticklish matter on their minds, is to wait until the meeting is finished, then pass a note to the President stating their particular problem, with a request for a private audience.

FOUR GERMANS WATCH U. S. A.

There are four Germans who know the United States better than any others. Where they are now reveals what importance Hitler attaches to the United States and its influence on the neutral countries. For all four Germans are located in key neutral capitals where they can watch Americans and keep their ears open for news of U. S. diplomatic and military maneuvers, and counteract American influence.

Here are the four German experts on the U. S. A.

Franz von Papen, German military attaché in Washington during the last war when he engineered plans to blow up the Welland canal and brain-trusted various other sabotage.

Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff, ex-ambassador to Washington and one of the most skillful to be stationed here in years.

Kurt Sell, correspondent of the official German News Agency DNB, long stationed in Washington where he was generally popular. Unofficially he acted frequently for the German Embassy.

In Europe these four are now stationed as follows: Von Papen in Turkey; Dieckhoff in Spain; Thomsen in Sweden; and Sell in Portugal.

These are countries which, if they moved their neutral position one way or the other, might decide the fate of the war.

DEFEAT IN BURMA

Recent events in Burma unfortunately have pretty much punctured the one-time world-beating reputation of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, supreme commander in the India-Burma theater.

The Japs are reported to have only about 50,000 men in Burma. How many the British have in the entire India area is a military secret but it can't be less than a million. However, there is one factor mitigating the otherwise dismal fiasco of General Wavell—most of his army is Indian.

Indian troops have fought well in other wars, but not in this one. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, vitally interested in reopening the Burma road, recently has hinted at the reason.

Would it not be better, he tactfully suggested, to settle India's political problems rather than lose China? In other words, Indian troops with no independence to look forward to, are not going to fight their best.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Generals Giraud and DeGaulle are going to unite on at least one thing—an ultimatum to Admiral Robert of Martinique that he resign. WPB's Ex Vice Chairman Ferd Eberstadt says: "Before I came to Washington my crowd in Long Island hated Ickes, and I was provincial enough to agree with them. But I have found that he is one of the best executives in Washington and one of the few who always keeps his word. When he promises to do a thing, he does it."

Had All of It

Wife—That child doesn't get her temper from me.
Husband—No, there's none of yours missing.

Suited Him

The boy was obviously not suited to the job.
"You told me when I engaged you that you were very handy," his employer said.
"So I am, sir," replied the boy. "I live just opposite."

So True

Billie (studying spelling lesson)—Mamma, what does a touseau mean?
Mamma—It means the clothes a bride wears for five or six years after she is married!

One old crony to another: "Shut up about your rheumatiz, you old fool. Do you want to let Hitler know it's goin' to rain?"

Stuck to the Point

Some gulls were following a steamer, and an Irishman said to his companion: "Sure, an' they're a nice flock of pigeons."
"They're not pigeons," said his companion; "they're gulls."
"Well," said the Irishman, "gulls or boys, they're a nice flock of pigeons."

Man in Court: "My wife always said she wasn't strong enough to do housework, so she left me to take a job on the railroad." Anyway, it's another line.

Now It Comes Out

"Will you be my wife?"
"Don't be ridiculous."
"Yes, I know it sounds ridiculous, but I'm not so particular as some men."

What is the most welcome gift you can send to a man in the service? Well, surveys among service men themselves show that one of the favorite packages from home are cigarettes. And first choice among men in all the services is Camel, based on the actual sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens. Though there are now Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are.—Adv.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Considering cost of oil, gas, tires and upkeep, it is estimated that the cost of driving the average car for 1000 miles at 45 miles per hour is $22.03. At 25 mph the cost is cut to $14.35 and at 35 mph it is held to $17.85.

Malaya and the Netherlands Indies were the only sources of natural rubber in the world which had been successfully exploited to an important extent prior to the present war.

Rubber and gas rationing did not drastically cut motor truck operations last year. Official figures show that during 1942 trucks hauled an estimated 46 billion ton miles of freight on main rural highways, compared with 46.7 billion in the more normal 1940.

COSTLIER TOBACCO

MY FRIEND FLICKA

by MARY OHARA

THE STORY SO FAR: Ten-year-old Ken McLaughlin can ride any horse on his family's Wyoming ranch, but he wants a colt of his own. His father, a retired army officer, refuses to give him one until his school grades improve and he learns to take responsibility. Ken's mother tries to protect him from the stern discipline of his father and the youthful bullying of his older brother, Howard, who always manages to do things right. When Captain McLaughlin learns that Ken has not been promoted he orders him to study instead of joining the roundup. But when Ken is through he dashes out to watch the horses come in and accidentally stampedes them.

Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER III

Even before he opened his eyes next morning Ken knew that something was wrong, and he pushed away the moment of complete awakening. He lay facing the window and saw that the pines on the hill were quiet. No wind today.

Then he remembered. He had stampeded the mares.

He had a feeling that it was late. For some time he had been half hearing all the early morning noises.

He slipped out of bed and went to the window, hitching up his pajamas. Howard was on the terrace right underneath, and Ken could see the top of his head, black and smooth, with the part exactly in the center. He had on blue jeans, and a clean chambray shirt and a red bandana.

Howard looked up. "Hi."

Ken faded back into the room and hastily began to dress.

The smell of coffee filled the house.

Howard watched his sprinkler, moving it, little by little, down the terrace, and planned his day. Ken would be all right now, he thought, he was never hard to manage—they might have fun in the swimming pool—or go shooting—

"Breakfast!" sang out Nell's voice. She ran out onto the terrace. She had on a green dress with a zipper all the way down the front and a sash across the back. She clapped her hands and yelled for them to come, and Rob dropped his shovel and ran at her, and Ken stopped tying his necktie to watch.

They'd gone in. Ken hurried to finish but he hated to go down, he felt so out of things. On the way downstairs he stopped before the picture of the duck. It was a big black duck with white breast and legs and white bars on his wings. He was fierce and handsome standing on his rock.

At the breakfast table his father was waiting to hear Ken clatter the rest of the way downstairs.

"I bet he's looking at the duck," said Howard.

"What duck?"

"On the landing. He looks at it for an hour sometimes."

"Howard," reproved Nell, "he never looks at it for an hour."

"Well, a long time—seems like an hour."

McLaughlin's voice was rising.

"What duck on the landing?"

"My Audubon print," explained Nell quickly. "The one that hangs under the clock. Ken likes to look at it."

"Ken!" roared his father; and nastily Ken's sturdy shoes clattered the rest of the way down the stairs, and he came into the kitchen, his hair meticulously parted and slicked down, and his face sullen.

"What did you stop on the landing for?"

Ken opened his napkin and looked down, embarrassed. "I was looking at the duck."

"The duck! Out the window?"

"The duck in the picture there."

There was a little amused glint in Nell's eyes as she helped Ken to oatmeal.

"Didn't you know we were at breakfast?"

"I—I—"

"Didn't think," finished his father for him.

Ken didn't look up or make any reply. He had known it would be like this. He poured cream on his oatmeal and reached for the brown sugar.

"Ken," said his father, "I'm going to take back an order I gave you yesterday. I'm going to remit your hour of study."

Ken looked at his father in astonishment—his mouth opening in relief and pleasure.

"I've got other plans for you this summer," McLaughlin continued pompously, and Nell tucked her face down to hide her smile.

"And," continued Rob blandly, "I'm going to give you a colt."

Ken shot out of his chair. Spoon and dishes went clattering.

"A—a—spring colt, Dad? Or a yearling?"

McLaughlin was taken aback, but Nell dropped her eyes again. If Ken got a yearling colt, he'd be even up with Howard.

"A yearling colt, your father means, Ken," she said smoothly.

Ken gathered up the china and silver he had scattered, replaced them and sat down again. Color had rushed to his face.

"I'll give it to you a week from today," said his father. "Between now and then you can look them over and make your choice."

"I can have any yearling colt on the ranch that I want?" asked Ken.

His father nodded calmly, pushed his chair back and took out his pipe.

Speechless, Ken turned to look at Howard and the two boys eyed each other.

Even up, at last.

"Does it have to be a yearling colt, Dad?" asked Howard. "Could it be a spring colt if he'd rather have a spring colt?"

"It could be anything foaled on the ranch since a year ago," said McLaughlin. "There are eighteen yearlings. So far, thirteen or fourteen new colts; a few to come yet."

"Will you take a yearling or a spring colt, Ken?" asked Howard.

In answer, Ken turned upon Howard an exaggerated pitying sneer, copied from the movies, and mastered only after much practice.

But his father asked the same thing. "Yearling or spring colt, Ken?"

Ken answered, "A yearling."

"Horse or filly?"

This stopped him. His eyes lost focus as mental images crowded.

Rocket was a mare. But there was Banner. And the Albino, mustang hero. There emerged from the confusion a definite sense of the superiority of the male.

"I'll take a horse colt." His voice was final and authoritative. An imperceptible glance passed between Nell and her husband.

McLaughlin said, "That narrows it down. Let's see—how many horse colts were foaled last year?"

"Ten fillies and eight horse colts," said Howard. "You've got eight horse colts to choose from, Ken."

Things were moving very fast for Ken, horses crowding him—

"Which were they?" said Nell. "I've got them all down in the Stud Book. I left it up at the stables the other day, in the tack room. Ken, run up and get it, and we'll look over the list."

"I'll go too," said Howard, sliding out of his chair; and both boys rushed out the door.

Ken tore ahead. A colt—a colt! His own!

His mind was full of images. A little foal just born, almost knocked down by its mother's tongue licking it . . . Banner rearing, his great forefeet beating the air, his big light belly, his fierce face and arching neck—a little yearling running . . . a black . . . a chestnut . . . his colt was all of them . . .

He dropped his head back and yelled; he pranced and galloped.

Howard caught up with him and said, "You crazy!"

"My colt, my colt," sang Ken. He ran in a circle, pacing, racking. He stuck his elbows out, said, "Whoa, there! Hi!" He tossed his head and shook his mane.

"You goofy!" exclaimed Howard, watching him.

Ken rushed at him with fists up. Howard fell into position and they sparred. Ken didn't care what happened to him. His arms went like flails. Howard blocked his blows easily.

Ken broke out of it and went flying up to the stable. He had a sharp consciousness of change and new importance. Things had begun at last. Things could be real now.

They found the Stud Book and ran back with it.

As Nell read out the list of yearlings and the names of their dams Ken began to feel queer. These were definite flesh and blood animals; named, described, tagged, in a book; not the colts that had kicked their heels and played and tossed their manes in his dreams. He felt the sense of loss which every dreamer feels when the dream moves up, comes close, and at last is concrete.

"I haven't named them all," Nell was saying. "There were some I never saw. They had run off somewhere when I went up on Twenty to look them over and put them in the book.

"The bronc bunch," grunted McLaughlin, referring to the progeny of the Albino. "They're always missing when they're wanted."

"Ken and I trained four of these yearlings ourselves," said Howard.

Every summer the two boys had the job of handling and halter-breaking four of the spring colts.

"The colts the boys trained last summer were Doughboy and College Boy and Lassie and Firefly," said Nell, studying the book. "Two horse colts and two fillies."

"Say, Ken," said Howard eagerly, "why don't you take Doughboy? He was one of yours. And when he grows up he'll be sort of twins with mine, in his name anyway. Doughboy, Highboy, see?"

But Ken looked scornful. Doughboy would never have half Highboy's speed. Last summer McLaughlin, looking over the colts, had said, "He's a chunk. We'll name him Doughboy. He might turn out a heavy hunter. Look at the big legs on him!"

"Lassie then," suggested Howard again. "If you want speed. She's fast as anything, and she's black as ink. Like Highboy."

"I said I was going to take a horse," said Ken. "Besides, Dad said Lassie'll never go over fifteen hands."

"Remember one thing, Ken," said McLaughlin. "You can't tell much about a colt when it's new-born, and not always much more when it's a yearling. Blood's the thing. The propensity of blood."

They had heard this term often, for whenever McLaughlin got talking about horses he used it.

"That's the trouble with this stuff I've got from the Albino. He had propensity. That devil passed on his traits. They don't wear out. Must have had some magnificent blood strains somewhere in his ancestry. Arab probably. Put enough Arab blood into a line and it gives propensity—to the traits you don't want as well as to those you do. Lots of Arab blood in these western mustangs. Comes from the Arab and Barb horses the Spaniards brought over—" McLaughlin got up, went to the shelf beside the spice closet, and took down one of his favorite books on the genealogy of the American horse. He turned the pages, looking for a passage.

Howard suddenly jerked his head back, listening. "Car coming." They all became motionless and heard the car rattle over the cattle guard at the Home Pasture Fence, come up the low hill behind the house in second gear, then whizz past. The boys darted to the window at the back of the house and saw the rear of the car as it vanished over the crest of the hill on its way to the stables.

"A dusty black car," announced Howard, returning.

McLaughlin closed his book. "Might be Doc," he said.

"To geld the two-year-olds?" asked Nell.

"Yes. Howard, run up to the stables and see if that was Dr. Hicks."

As Howard left the room, Ken asked, "Can I watch, Dad?"

Nell caught her husband's eye and he did not answer.

"Run up to my room and get me a handkerchief, will you Ken?" she said. "Right hand corner, top bureau drawer—"

When Ken had gone she said, "Rob, don't let them see the gelding."

"They might as well," said Rob. "They have to know, sooner or later."

"They know already. But, so far, they've never actually seen it. You've always had it done before they got home from school."

"Won't hurt 'em."

Ken returned and handed his mother the handkerchief. Howard arrived almost at the same moment at the back door.

"It's Doc Hicks, Dad, and his assistant."

"I thought so. Run and tell Gus to light a fire up there, and get some water boiling."

"He's already up there. He's got the fire lit."

He was about to dash away again, but Nell called him back.

"Sit down and finish your breakfast," said she. "You too, Ken. You've hardly eaten a thing."

The boys finished hastily.

Gus appeared at the door. "If we cude have an old sheet for clean rags, Missus."

Nell brought an old sheet, clean and folded, from the linen closet.

Ken finished eating, wiped his mouth, said "Excuse me, please," and darted after Gus as he left the room.

"Dad's given me a colt, Gus—any colt on the ranch up to a year old—"

Howard finished and ran after them.

Nell sighed as she rose to clear the table. "A bloody day. I hope they get through all right."

Rob did not answer. He wasn't looking at her. Suddenly he laughed.

"I'll take a horse colt. Did you hear the voice on him when he said that? He's never talked or looked like that in his life before." He pushed his chair back and got up. "Now, if he just picks a good one—" He went to the door and hurried out.

PETER COMFORTS PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—I Peter 3:13-17; 4:12-16; 5:6-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.—I Peter 3:17.

What shall we do? Where shall we turn? Is there no help for us? Such are the natural and understandable cries of those who bear the heavy heartbreak of persecution. God's Word has the answer, for from the very beginning the followers of Christ have had to meet that problem.

Peter is especially the apostle of comfort, and the portion now before us is rich in helpful instruction. His word to persecuted people is five-fold.

I. Do Not Be Afraid—Christ Is Lord (3:13-17).

By doing good the Christian will escape much suffering (v. 13), but if even then it comes, he is not to be afraid (v. 14). He is to sanctify Christ in his heart, that is, fully recognize the holiness of Christ and all that He is and can do for him. This is to be done in his heart. That means the exercise of full faith in Christ the Lord as the indwelling Presence. Who then can be afraid?

Note that this is not just a subjective spiritual exercise for his own enjoyment—it will show in his "good manner of life in Christ" which will put his persecutors "to shame" (v. 16). How effectively that has worked only recently in Germany, Norway and elsewhere.

II. Do Not Be Surprised—the Enemy Will Attack (4:12, 13).

Surprise attack is effective. Remember Pearl Harbor! Satan is an expert in strategy, and is eager to keep Christians in an easy and comfortable mood, so that he may strike a vicious blow when it is not expected. We best prepare to meet him when we recognize that persecution and suffering will come.

We are to bear in mind that it is not some "strange thing" which has happened; we who suffer as Christians are "partakers of Christ's sufferings." Joy and glory are ahead.

III. Do Not Be Ashamed—You Suffer for Christ (4:14-16).

Sadness and depression rest upon the one who suffers for his own evil deeds, but those who suffer for Christ's sake may be ever rejoicing. Can you not see that "the spirit of glory and the Spirit of God" are resting (v. 14) even now on some who sit in prisons and concentration camps? What a glorious picture of His grace!

It is proper to observe here that the believer is not to be guilty of that which justly brings the law's condemnation (v. 15). Do not fail to note the last of the list of crimes—"meddler in other men's matters." Has not just that caused endless trouble in the church, and harmed its testimony before the world? Let's quit meddling!

IV. Do Not Worry—He Careth for You (5:6, 7).

Worry! Worry! How it does crowd itself into our thinking. Yes, we know we are Christians, that we are unjustly accused or persecuted, that we are suffering for Christ's sake. That's all true, but how is it all coming out? What about my family? Will they harm my children? If I do survive will I be able to start life anew? And so on—questions without end; and soon comes the corroding touch of worry.

What shall we do? The answer is plain. Cast all your care on Christ—"He careth for you" (v. 7). That takes an act of faith just as it does to become a Christian in the first place, but it works.

The cure for all anxiety is right there—but it can only be reached by the path of humility. "Humble yourselves" (v. 6). There is the gateway to comfort, and to true exaltation in God's own good time (cf. Jas. 6:4-10).

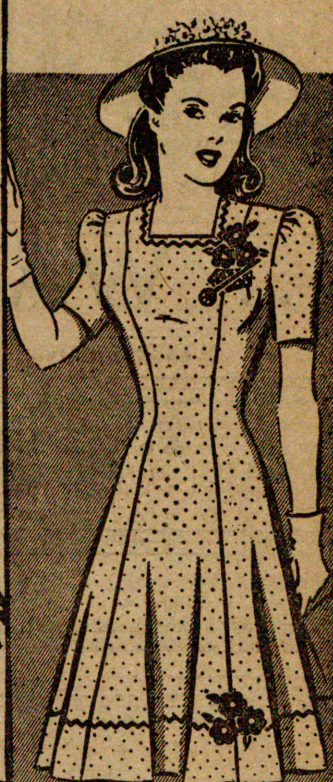

V. Do Not Waver—God Is Your Strength (5:8-10).

Steady, perfected, established in Christ, sure of his eternal destiny and with the eyes of faith seeing the glory to come—such is the man who is ready and able to meet the devil when, like a roaring lion, he seeks to disturb and devour God's people. The believer should be ready and equipped.

That does not mean that the Christian sits with his hands folded waiting in a fatalistic way for the inevitable to happen. Never! He is "on the alert" with his spiritual ears attuned to hear the approach of the enemy's "bombers." He is "sober and watchful" against the "roaring lion" (v. 8).

Satan is unusually busy in our day. Alert Christian people see his deadly onslaughts on their brethren, which are possibly more severe now than for many years. He is seeking to break them down physically, mentally and spiritually, to make them fearful, to make them timid about work for Christ, to limit their usefulness, and to steal from them their victorious assurance. He is busy—let us be alert against him.

There's a Parting There

This story, told in a letter from a soldier in Africa, makes one smile:

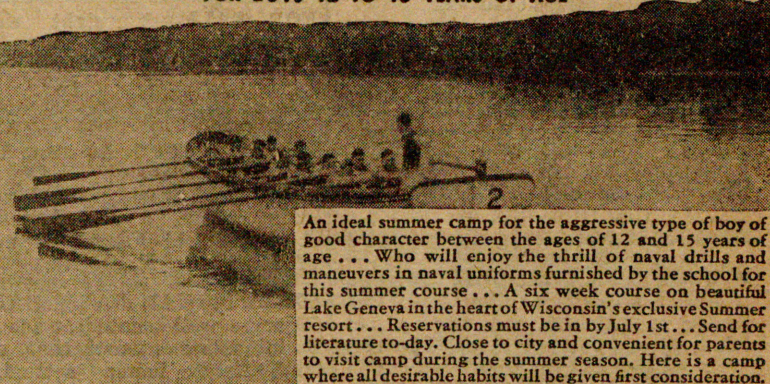

"One of our men, posted near an African village, was on lone duty when a darky native came to his camp.

"The native was admiring the hair parting of my soldier friend. Would the white soldier make a parting for him?

"Being at a loose end, the soldier tried his hand at it; but, try as he would, he could not part that matted darky head. At last he got out his razor, and, to the darky's delight, he shaved a parting for him!

"Reaction to this was that early next morning there were 10 darkies at the camp wanting 'a shaved hair parting, sah.'"

Dear Friends:
Your Easter package arrived well on time and in very good condition. How you folks manage to do all this is beyond me. I can realize what a job it is and really do appreciate every bit of it. Not just the gifts we receive but knowing we are being remembered means a great deal.

There just isn't any activity except the usual training at a place like this. It does get monotonous once in a while. Heres hoping we will be in Tinley again soon.

Thanks for everything to all of you back home.

Cpl. Irving E. Siemsen, Hq. and Hq. Squadron, 20th Bomb Wing, MacDill Fields, Tampa, Fla.

April 31, 1943

Dear Friends:
Received your most welcome gift and wish to thank you for it. It was greatly enjoyed by my friends and myself and they also wish to send their thanks. I am now in a Military Police unit as you probably know and will be here for 10 weeks of training after which we will be sent elsewhere to carry on our duties. This is just a newly formed unit and at the present time we only have half of our quota of men.

The weather here is plenty hot but the people tell me its nothing compared to June and July.

This base is situated right on the shores of Lake Ponchartrain and is about 8 miles from New Orleans. Are there any of the fellows from Tinley Park stationed near here. I heard that Richard Mason is here or was here at this base but have not been able to locate him.

I would appreciate it very much if you would check on that and if he is at this base send me his address. Sincerely yours,

Cpl. Fred H. Meyer, 1256th MP Co. AVN NBAAB, New Orleans, La.

Dear Friends:

Just a few lines to let you know I received your most welcome letter about two weeks ago. Also that I received the swell package that you sent me. Thanks a million. You asked me in your letter to describe this place a little. This camp seems to lay in a valley and big hills all around. It really is pretty. We live in little six man huts have a small oil burning heater in each hut. As it gets sort of chilly at nights here sometime. The mess hall has natural gas for cooking and heating water. The bath houses have natural gas for heating water. I dont believe you can find a coal pile in the whole camp area. Everything is green here now. They say that in about a month everything will turn brown. We haven't had very much rain here so far. We are about three miles from the town of San Luis Obispo, Cal. We can go from camp to town by taxi for two bits. It is a pretty nice town.

Well I am back in the kitchen again, a student cook. Dont know for how long though. Well I guess I ll have to close thanking you all again for what you all are doing for us fellows.

Sincerely,

Pfc. Oliver V. Barr, 36046194, Co. B, 6th Engr. Mtz Bn. APO 6, 6th Mtr. Div. Camp San Luis Obispo, Cal.

April 29, 1943

Dear Friends:
Just a few lines to let you know that I received a fine package from you today. I was really very happy to receive it and words cannot express my appreciation for it.

I am stationed in Clearwater, Fla. either for my basic training or until there is an opening in some school for which I am qualified to attend.

The weather is very warm here during the day and chilly during the evening. The boys also send their appreciation and thanks for part of the cookies which they ate.

We have all kinds of sports here and a fine theater of our own which we can attend any night or Sunday afternoon. We also have different religious Churches which we are asked to attend and most of us do.

We were excused Good Friday afternoon to go to church in Clearwater and we heard a very good sermon. There were eight ministers which preached on the last words of Christ, and one preached on them all.

News is getting scarce so I guess Ill close by again thanking you for the wonderful package.

Pvt. Albert A. Manzke, 36742972, T. G. 601 Flight C, 63rd Wing Sq. 515, US Army Air Corps. Clearwater, Florida.

April 30, 1943

Dear Folks:
I received your Easter Box with the Cookies, Candy and Cigarettes and wish to thank each and every one of you for your kindness and thoughtfulness. There is nothing to compare with the lift a fellow gets when he knows those back home are thinking of him and behind his every effort.

This will be my medium to reach the old gang from home and say hello and good luck. I can not wait for the day when we can all shake hands once again. To those back home I wish to say it is great the way you take care of us. We cant ever thank you enough.

Sincerely,

Ensign Edward J. Ryan, care US Naval Section Base, Galveston, Tex.

April 30, 1943

Dear Friends:
Just a line to let you know that I am still alive and kicking. By kicking I mean that the food out here in Washington is very poor and me and the mess Sgt. don't get along so good. But hell that is the army for you if we dont kick we are not happy. But

We love it after all is said and done. We have a nice bunch of fellows and we keep pretty busy all the time working in the base shops out here. This is a very pretty place and from my squad rooms I can see Mt. Rainier and it sure is a very pretty spot with its white caps and trees. We have a lot of rain here but we are now having some nice weather with sunshine and everything is in bloom out here.

I have to help my buddies put up some black out curtains so I wont be able to write very much more.

But before I close I want you to know that I received your package for Easter and I was very glad to get it. The Boys all just hung around until the cookies were all gone. But we all enjoyed them very much. I want to thank you very much for everything and I know that the rest of the boys from Tinley Park are saying the same. I will close now, from one of your boys.

Mrs. Dolores Anderson

May 27, 1943

Mrs. Dolores Anderson
Dear Dolores:

Just a few lines to let you know that I enjoy reading your column in the News Bulletin, it gives me some news about the folks around New Lenox. I wish to thank those responsible for having the paper sent to me. Now that I am at sea I can really appreciate the value of news from around home.

My address has of course, been changed, my permanent address now is: Eddie L. Lockhart, MM 2-c, USN, U.S.S. Belleau Wood, M Division, care FPO New York City.

I don't know if Mom has told you, my wife has been with me while I was stationed in Philadelphia, that city sure lives up to its motto, The City of Brotherly Love, the sailors call it 'a swell port' which is our way of saying its OK.

I also spent little more than a month in New York City and really had a wonderful time. New York is all out to Service Men of all nations, and we found it hard to spend our money there.

Im sorry I cant tell you much about where I'm at, or expect to be, but perhaps when this is all over, all of us local fellows will have much to tell.

Yours very sincerely,
Eddie L. Lockhart, MM 2-c

In this Northern Illinois war factory, Electric Power helps produce vital gears for the motors of P-T Boats.

Here a new electric machine is used for welding aluminum parts of galley equipment for the Navy's P-T Boats.

Mighty Mites of the U. S. Navy

Like a streak of lightning, the bouncing, bucking P-T Boats dash in close to play havoc with the huge Jap warships.

These midjet warships of the U. S. Navy have won the acclaim of the nation's fighting men... and the call is for more and more.

That call will be answered, too. For Electric Power, the energy of war production, is fast at work. Speeding every operation of manufacture—the cutting and grinding...the welding and riveting...the fitting and assembling—Electric Power is helping to turn out P-T Boats in mass production.

Our wartime assignment is the supplying of Electric Power to the factories producing vital parts for P-T Boats and to all the other war plants in Northern Illinois. This job is our chief endeavor until victory is won.

HOMER

Mrs. Fred Kopelman

Mrs. Donald L. Peterson left Friday for California where she will visit her husband who is stationed at San Francisco with the army. Mrs. Peterson is the former Miss Verla Reiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reiter.

The Modern Woodmen met Wednesday night in the Goodings Grove hall. Refreshments were served by Wm. Lister and John Welter. Frank Kolar and Walter Konow will serve on the June committee.

Children's Day exercises will be held at the Homer church Sunday, June 13. Mrs. Leonard Bertelsen, Miss Irma Jungles, Miss Betty Rowley and Miss Monna Milton are in charge of the program.

Church services were observed at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at the Homer Congregational church. Abe Akaka of the Chicago Theological Seminary was a guest of Rev. Finley and favored with a vocal solo. Mr. Akaka will return to his native soil in Hawaii next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kopelman received word Tuesday that their son Earl had been brought back to the United States and is now a patient at the U. S. Naval hospital in Seattle. Washington. Earl is suffering from rheumatic fever and a telegram stated that he would be confined there from four to six weeks.

George Brankey, who has been attending the University of Illinois is spending a few days with his parents here.

The Womans Club will meet Wednesday afternoon June 9 at 1:30 in the home of Mrs. Mary Konow. Her sister, Mrs. Jennie Ott of Lockport will assist in entertaining. Mrs. Linia Burnett and Mrs. Mamie Paddock will have charge of the program.

Pfe. LaVerne Kasper, who is stationed in Maryland, spent the week end in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kasper.

Sixteen were in attendance at the Community Clubs monthly party. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brankey, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bump were in charge. The committee for the June party, is Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiller. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reiter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Konow. Mrs. Hiller was the winner of the quilt which Mrs. Brankey awarded to defray expenses on the piano which she recently purchased for the town hall.

Sunday afternoon, a very interesting program was presented at the Brooks cemetery. The program had been planned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mohr, Mr. and Mrs. Christel Koehler and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Woods of Lemont.

The American Legion from Lemont was present and fired salutes, sounded taps and the chaplain of the Legion offered a prayer. The remainder of the program consisted of a very fine address by Rev. Harold Finley and group singing of America and God be With You Til we Meet Again. The committee appointed to have charge for next year is Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jungles of Lemont, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Jungles and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ott.

The business session followed the program. Mrs. J. T. White was appointed chairman and Miss Julia Tilsy as secretary. The election resulted as follows: John Parker re-elected trustee; Geo. Ott re-elected custodian; Robt. Jungles elected auditor and J. T. White re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Thursday, teacher of the Salterman school Mrs. O'Neill of Joliet, her pupils and residents of the district held their school picnic at the Messenger Forest Preserve. An unusually good time and attendance were reported.

The Wells Corner school also held their picnic Thursday, as did the Goodings Grove school.

Mrs. Marvin White of Lockport is spending a few days at the home of her sister Mrs. Geo. Welter at Goodings Grove.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson and Mrs. Margaret Storm of Marley spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Anderson.

Pvt. and Mrs. Robert Zeisemer and son Ronald have been guests at the home of Aubrey Lawrence in Joliet a portion of the past week. They are now guests in the George Welter home. Pvt. Zeisemer will return to camp in North Carolina Wednesday.

Saturday evening a reunion of the Keisemer family was held in Joliet and Robert was the guest of honor.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Anderson will entertain at 6 o'clock dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Zeisemer.

Mrs. Frank Parker is numbered with the sick.

WAR VETERAN'S SLOGAN IS "AMERICAN DAY" WINNER

Herbert Middledorf, who won the Purple Heart citation fighting with General MacArthur's 42nd "Rainbow" Division in the last war, has been cited in this one. Building Packard marine engines for PT boats, Middledorf has been tendered a Wings Award in recognition of his "I Am An American Day" contest-winning slogan, now used by the Packard Motor Company to spur workers to greater production heights.

Inspired by the greatly increased production quotas requested by the Armed Forces, this war veteran brought forth a banner inscribed, "American Ends With I CAN!" Contest officials were unanimous in selecting the slogan for first honors.

Apparently the entire Middledorf family believes in practicing what Dad preaches. Mrs. Middledorf is also a war worker in the Packard plant, inspecting parts for Rolls-Royce aircraft engines that are currently responsible for the successful daily bombings of Germany. Both their sons, William and James, are flying with the Army Air Corps.

Lake Liner to Open Season June 20

The big lakeliner, City of Grand Rapids, will open its 1943 season on June 20 from Chicago to continue until Labor Day. It was announced today by Herbert Dase, president of the C. & B. Steamship Co., with headquarters at 333 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago. The ship will make daily round trips between Chicago and Benton Harbor-St. Joe, Michigan and evening skyline cruises out of Chicago each night.

This year the City of Grand Rapids, for the convenience of its patrons, and with a thought to the lack of ground transportation, will sail up the Chicago River and dock at the Michigan Avenue Bridge, bringing it "right down town" instead of at the Navy Pier as heretofore. This will save Chicagoans many extra minutes and much surface travel expense Dase said.

The "Victory" cruises across the lake will go every day, leaving at 10:00 a. m. from Chicago and laying over in the twin Michigan cities from 1:45 p. m. until 4:45 p. m. to give guests a chance to visit Michigan's Riviera, the beaches at St. Joe and Benton Harbor, the famed House of David and other attractions of the vacation shore.

The big boat is expected to prove a real transportation aid to the war effort, saving tires and gasoline for motorists in large quantities, besides offering a one-day or short holiday for busy war effort workers. It will be used by many organizations for short pleasure or convention type cruises.

The evening trips, along Chicago's famous skyline, go out from 9:30 P. M. until midnight each

Song of the Citizens

We are the men with a task to do,
We are the women who are aiding too,
We are the children who will do all we can
To help the older ones, woman or man,
Some in the land forces, some in the air,
Some on the water, some everywhere,
Some in the factory, on the farm some,
Some in the laboratory, some in the school,
All out to finish the dictator's rule,
Which holds so much of the whole world in slavery,
Ruling with force, attained by mere knavery.
We are Americans.

We have traditions down through the years,
Brave Pilgrim fathers, and hardy pioneers,
Farmers at Lexington and Bunker Hill,
Washington, Valley Forge, indomitable will,
Nathan Hale, John Paul Jones, Marion's men,
Barbary pirates overthrown, and when
Rent wide asunder the Blue and the Gray
Battled heroically. United to-day
Their children fought at Argonne and Thierry,
Pearl Harbor, Wake Island, Africa, the very
Bombing of Tokio just as a token
Of what is to come for a nation's faith broken.
We are Americans.

Linked to the strains which our melting pot fuses
Come down traditions of tyrant's abuses,
Heroic struggles their ends to defeat.
As at Thermopylae Greeks fought at Crete.
Holland with open dykes, let in the sea.
Germans of forty-eight sought to be free
So once did William Tell, Arnold Von Winkelried,
Brave Garibaldi once Italy freed.
Czechs of the olden day drove out the foreign hordes,
Poles under Kosciuszko unsheathed valorous swords,
France under Joan of Arc, earlier than Bonaparte,
Rose in her might and rent alien yoke apart.
These please Americans.

Visions of human rights down through the ages,
Jesus of Nazareth who taught the sages,
Charter of Runnymede, Coke, Hampden, Pym,
Roger Williams, Peter Zenger, liberty to win,
John Locke, Montesquieu, Government of Law,
Things that inspired philosophers foresaw,
All found fruition in our Declaration
And our Constitution which made us a Nation;
Conceived in liberty as Lincoln said
Honoring at Gettysburg, the living and the dead,
Dedicated to this truth, all men are equal,
A government of the people by the people for the people.
This is American.

We have the resources, we have the men,
Eager to fight for world freedom again,
Making and fighting with bodies and brains
Ships, tanks, munitions, and aeroplanes.
American valor and skilled enterprise,
Joined with our allies in earth, sea, and skies,
Will place where they should be the accursed buccaneers
Who would set back civilization a full thousand years,
And we'll honor our dead, for as Christ crucified,
For the saving of man these heroes will have died;
And we'll still set the example of blessed mankind,
With physical freedom and freedom of mind.
We are Americans.

Fun at Riverview

"It feels like you're riding a shooting star."

That's what they say after riding the "Bobs", the mile-a-minute roller coaster at Riverview, the famous amusement park on Chicago's north-west side which is now well under way in furnishing its fortieth season of fun for Chicagoans.

The "Bobs", whose inconspicuous sign is seen on the west loop of the park's two-mile midway, may be considered "just another roller coaster" by the uninitiated. But they have a surprise in store. Ask anyone who has ridden it.

You get in, two in a seat, and the long, streamlined cars move down and around the tracks, then up a long incline. "The view of the park is grand from here", you say as you near the top. "Look! You can see clear over there on..."

Then things begin to happen. "Down, down, down you go"... to reach sixty miles per hour at the lower level... up and around a series of curves and turns... up and down more sweeping hills. When you get off and start walking down the ramp, that is if you don't decide to ride again immediately, you have the feeling of just having stepped off a combination bob-sled and P38.

The "Bobs" is only one of the hundred attractions which are thrilling Riverview visitors, young and old. Through courtesy of the park management, service men and women in uniform are admitted free to Riverview at any time.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

THE PENNANT CRUISE

(Written by Hughey Keogh (Hek), on his last New Year's day, over 30 years ago. A perfect turn for the two pennant races of 1943.)

Ready about, and we're off again,

On another leg of this blind-lead race,

To finish, no one knows where or when,

No cares o'er much in the present case.

No backward glance at the might-have-been,

No vain regrets, nor haunting fear

That the course we lay is beyond our ken—

We've squared away for another year.

We do not know what is dead ahead

(And 'tis best for us that we do not know)

Or if we are leading, or being led,

Or good or ill in the winds that blow.

Perhaps in another way we'd go

If we shaped our course with a vision clear.

'Tis a Sporting Chance—and we'd have it so—

We're squared away for another year.

Physical examinations in connection with war service have given the nation two startling facts. Both have landed with heavy thuds on the national conscience.

No. 1, as reported by qualified officials of the war department, is the number of young fellows in the 18 and 19-year-old class who are unfit for service. Out of 100,000 examined, 25,000 have failed to pass the physical grade.

As one high-ranking officer told me, "This country spends millions to take good care of its pigs, chickens and cows, but very little for its kids."

The No. 2 shock came in the knowledge that so many star athletes are physically unfit for war service. There has been a general belief that any well-known athlete, in his prime, would make the finest possible soldier or sailor material. Many of them do. But an astonishing number don't. The fit ones make the best war material, but the number of unfit is numerically large.

Greg Rice—champion long-distance runner—triple or double hernia.

Craig Wood—Open Golf champion—badly affected spine, requiring serious operation.

Leo Durocher—punctured eardrum.

George Kurowski—World Series star—defective arm.

Byron Nelson—golf star—quick bleeder.

Many others with defective eyesight, which is the leading barrier among all war-service defects.

The Case of Nelson

Several have written in, asking why Byron Nelson, a hale and hearty-looking athlete, who can march all day, should be deferred on the grounds of "easy bleeding," to use the common term.

This is a story that few know. Suspended from a small chain around Nelson's neck there is a small disk, hidden from sight, with a certain number on it. Byron has been wearing this for some years. This disk represents the blood type that Nelson must have in the wake of any cut.

"After just a slight cut," Craig Wood told me, "Nelson will start a flow of blood that is unbelievable. There wouldn't be time enough to find out just what blood type he needed for a transfusion. What to you or others might be just a scratch wound would be to Byron a serious matter."

The game of war offers no such delay. It is for this reason that Byron Nelson twice has been classified in the 4-F division.

Those who start criticizing any deferred person should know all the answers and all the reasons before they go overboard.

The various draft boards are doing the best they can with a tough situation.

A Different Matter

Certain vital physical defects among leading athletes is something that can't be helped. The case of our kids is a different matter.

Unfortunately, it was a man named Hitler who first thought up the idea of training and developing kids of 12, 13, 14 and 15—on up through 19.

This is something we have overlooked. It is something we are still facing in a listless fashion—despite the fact that from 100,000 selectees, 25,000 have to be thrown out.

COUNT FLEET, the horse of the year, may easily become the horse of the century.

Winner of the Wood, the Derby and the Preakness, the Count has been compared endlessly to Man o' War. The urge to compare them will grow if he goes on to win the other three-year-old stakes for which he may be pointed.

At one time Count Fleet could have been bought for $4,500 or less from John D. Hertz. His possibilities seemed far from outstanding. He was rather an odd looking yearling, and even Hertz, student of breeding and distinguished turfman, was lucky to hold on to him. He just didn't look like he'd turn into a winning race horse.

But the fact that such a horse as the Count could have been purchased for so little shouldn't influence you into quitting your job in search of a bargain race horse. Joe Williams, a New York sports writer, tells the results of a study made by Col. Joe Estes of Lexington, a national authority on the subject.

Results of the Study

Colonel Estes made a study of all the thoroughbred foals born in 1934 and followed them through to 1939, or through four years of racing.

Here are the results—and they are a typical illustration:

Of the 4,834 foals born in 1934, 3,080 survived to get to the track, or 63 per cent, which means that 37 per cent never started in a single race. Of the 3,080 that did get to the races, 2,099 won one or more races, this being less than 50 per cent.

According to Williams, the Colonel's study shows further that the average starter in this grouping ran in 32.2 races during the four-year period studied. The average horse won 3.7 races and earned $3,553. This amounted to an average of $108 a start.

Only 226 of the 4,834 foals—about one out of 21—earned as much as $1,000. There were 157 stakes winners, less than 4 per cent of the total.

Yes, Count Fleet could have been purchased for a ridiculously low price, and he already has won more than $200,000. But Count Fleet isn't just another race horse. He's a minor miracle.

Premature

Give the Count a little time and he may hang up as fine a record as Man o' War. But the comparison is somewhat premature for the moment. The Count has won only three major engagements as a three-year-old while Man o' War, having skipped the Wood and the Derby, went on to win the Preakness, the Withers, the Belmont, the Dwyer, the Travers and the Lawrence Realization and the Jockey Club Stakes, with a few minor triumphs scattered among them. But time may see the Count equal this record, or better it.

However, it isn't necessary to go all the way back to Man o' War to make comparisons. In 1937 War Admiral, as a three-year-old, was kicking up a lot of dust. In case you've forgotten, he was quite a horse.

War Admiral was similar to the Count in quite a few ways. He won only three of his six starts as a two-year-old, but found himself as a three-year-old. He won the Chesapeake Stakes, the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont. Injured in the Belmont, he was laid up until fall when he returned to Maryland to win two stakes at Laurel, and climaxed his campaign by winning the first Pimlico Special.

Two Defeats

As a four-year-old the Admiral won nine times in 11 starts. His twin defeats came in the Massachusetts Handicap, when he ran out of the money for the only time in his life, and in the Pimlico Special, which was a match race with Seabiscuit. His victories included the Widener, the Wilson, the Saratoga Handicap, the Whitney and the Jockey Club gold cup.

The Count has captured the public's imagination. Even when he runs away from his rivals the race is thrilling. The Preakness, for instance, resembled a contest only for the split second that the colts came out of the gate. New Moon was a stride in front. Then the Count took the lead. It was no longer a race. But a great colt was out there running magnificently. He increased his lead to five lengths, then moved just fast enough to hold it there.

There was no close finish, but the onlookers roared their appreciation. They were paying their homage to a champion.

SPORTS SHORTS

Branch Rickey, a gifted speaker, averaged three addresses a day on behalf of the war loan drive.

Arday Keller of the St. Louis Browns once played with the House of David.

Jimmy Dykes, White Sox manager, once made five hits in five times up off Yankee pitching, each hit on the first pitch.

Indiana university's pistol team finished its season with 16 victories in 17 telegraphic intercollegiate meets.

Enlisting Idle Acres For Food Production

New Goals Demand Full Use of Available Land

Getting idle acres back on the job is high on the list of "must" activities for the farmer-committeemen of the Agricultural Adjustment agency during '43.

With production goals adding up to a tremendous total in food and fiber, maximum use of all agricultural resources will have to be employed to meet minimum demands for farm products, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard has announced. Land as well as machinery, labor and other tools of production is included in the department of agriculture's program.

As with other aspects of the Triple-A farm plan, each community will do the job of enlisting its own idle acres and idle farms for duty on the food front.

Secretary Wickard has requested that Triple-A farm committeemen, both county and community, locate available tracts of land in their districts which are not now producing, and take whatever steps are feasible to put them into useful activity.

Assistance will be given by the county USDA war boards where cases cannot be taken care of locally, and these boards have also been instructed to be prepared to help wherever possible in locating operators, in financing operations if required through available loan programs, or in helping the operator obtain labor or machinery should these items stand in the way of any land use.

Farmers have also been urged through Triple-A to rent to other operators acreage they themselves cannot put to work. Persons capable of managing a small farm, or of taking on additional cropland, will in turn be able to rent acreage from operators who already have under cultivation all who wish to see every square yard of their land in production.

Grow Some Crops Seed;

Country Will Need It

If you have a field to spare, put it to work for Uncle Sam and grow seed of grasses and legumes on it. The nation needs such seed for military, lend-lease and domestic use, and will pay you fair prices for what you produce.

This suggestion is made by C. S. Garrison, assistant extension agronomist at Rutgers university, in pointing out that the department of agriculture has developed a price support program on 20 kinds of hay and pasture seeds as an incentive to production.

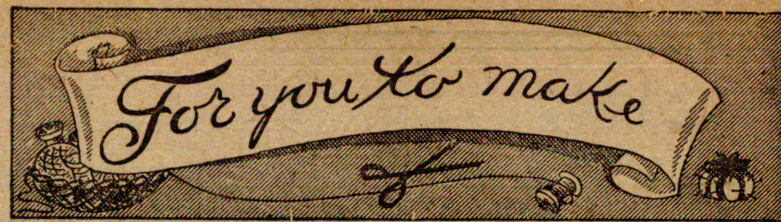

"The list includes seeds of crops such as alfalfa, timothy, orchard grass, meadow fescue and red, sweet and alsike clover," Garrison says. "And where a farmer has a field which could be harvested for seed, this program will guarantee him a minimum price, as well as the satisfaction of helping to insure adequate supplies for 1944."

"It is important to maintain the supply of good seed of the legumes and grasses since they are playing a large part in the war production program," Garrison reminds farmers. "Legumes and grasses used in crop rotation have shown themselves to be effective in maintaining crop yields."

Agricultural Notes

Since meat rationing has gone into effect the raising of rabbits for meat has been given considerable impetus.

When planting potatoes this should be remembered. Blocky seed pieces with one good eye should be used, for they dry out less readily and may be handled more easily than long pieces.

CROCHETED accessories gaily team up with your tailored clothes this season. This jiffy crocheted beret and purse set is colorful, becoming and so economical to make up in straw yarn. Both pieces are done in just one long strip of crochet.

Pattern 560 contains directions for beret and purse; illustrations of stitches; list of materials required.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Even Cupid Is Living Up To the Rules These Days

Being of a very kindly nature, the foreman of the munition plant took a great interest in the love affair of one of his pretty "munitionettes."

Then one day he was surprised to hear that it was broken off. But that very evening he was even more surprised to see the young lady in question out with the newly discarded young man.

"Why, Doris," he said chidingly, "I thought you had finished with that young man. And here you are out with him."

"That's right, I have," was the reply from Doris; "but I had to give him seven days' notice, didn't I?"

After you have removed old wallpaper, wash the walls with warm water to remove the old paste. Rinse slightly and let the walls dry perfectly before putting on the new paper. This extra work pays.

When soil in which house plants are potted becomes more like clay than loam it may be lightened by adding sand to it. Plants grow best in this kind of soil.

To separate lettuce remove the core, then let water from faucet flow into the head until pressure of water forces leaves apart. If still firm let head stand in cold water to cover.

Ground or chopped meat needs much colder storage and keeps a shorter time than other meat.

A small window may be made to look larger by setting the curtain rods beyond the casing on each side and using draperies of a material heavy enough so that casings will not be seen through material.

Glass Lifeboats on Way? Will Float Indefinitely

Lifeboats, built of glass have been made possible by the discovery of a new type of glass which floats like cork. It is called foaming glass, and it is claimed that it could be an alternative for cork, balsa wood, cellular rubber or kapok.

The new glass can be sawn or drilled with ordinary tools. Because of its closed-cell structure it will not absorb water and will float indefinitely.

It is produced by fixing ordinary glass mixed with a small quantity of pure carbon. At a certain temperature the glass softens and the carbon turns into a gas—very much as baking powder or yeast behaves when bread is being baked. By proper selection and exact temperature control, it is possible to obtain rigid slabs in which the cells are uniformly small and entirely sealed.

Use a toothbrush for polishing silverware. It is especially good for the fork tines and engraved handles.

The constant use and washing of silver gives it the "butler" finish you find on heirloom silver.

To tightly fasten corks in bottles, boil the corks for five minutes to soften them and then, while hot press them into the bottles. When cool the seal will be perfect.

Sew-On Chair Covers In the Smart Cottons

SEW-ON covers of chintz or other smart cottons are always neat and trim and, since the pieces are all sewn to the old upholstery of the chair with rather long stitches, it is not difficult to remove the cover for washing or cleaning. If washed at home it is much easier to handle separate pieces than an entire slip cover.

A sew-on cover should be pin-fitted with a 4-inch tuck-in around the spring seat and 1-inch seam allowances. Use tailor's chalk to mark stitching lines and indicate pieces to have welting stitched to edges. Here, welting is used for the side seams of the inside center back section; across the front of the seat; for the top and bottom of the outside; and all around the front of the arm sections. The sketch shows how welting and unwelting pieces are sewn in place. The welting hides the stitches if you use heavy duty thread matching the cord covering.

NOTE—The new BOOK 10 of the series of booklets offered with these articles gives other valuable pointers on making both sew-on covers and removable slip covers. BOOK 9 gives directions for repairing the springs of chairs before covering them. BOOK 9 and 10 are 15 cents each. Send your order to:

Largest Bible Weighs Over Half Ton; of Wood

I wonder if it is mere coincidence that the largest Bible in the world was made by a carpenter? Aided by his wife, he constructed it at Los Angeles, and the job took them two years exactly. This gigantic volume measures 43½ inches by 34 inches and is 34 inches thick. Weighing 1,094 pounds—approximately half a ton—when open it spans 8 feet 2 inches, has 32 separate sections, and contains 8,048 pages. And it was all done on a hand stamping machine!

I SAID GOOD-BYE TO CONSTIPATION

Harsh, medicinal laxatives only gripped me—and never really stopped my constipation. It always came back. Then I found out why. I just wasn't taking on enough "bulk"-forming foods. So—I started eating KEOLOGE'S ALL-BRAN regularly and drinking plenty of water. And—I "Joined the Regulars!" That's because KEOLOGE'S ALL-BRAN gets at the cause of constipation like mine and corrects it—by helping to form a soft, bulky mass in the intestines. If your trouble is what mine was, why not try KEOLOGE'S ALL-BRAN? It's made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek and tastes swell.

Saving Our Domestic Markets

Domestic markets consume over 90 per cent of agricultural production. Business and industry furnish the income for the millions of employees who form an important segment of our domestic consuming market. Rural production has an important stake in the ability of business and industry to furnish constant employment at good wages. We ought, therefore, to keep constantly informed concerning our domestic market.

The following figures are taken from information furnished by the Department of Commerce. They give us needed information of what may happen to our domestic market unless we plan ahead.

1929	Per Cent of National Income
Net Income of Incorporated Business	8.64
Net Income of other Unincorporated Business	10.16
Total	18.80
1941	Per Cent of National Income
Net Income of Incorporated Business	7.62
Net Income of other Unincorporated Business	8.97
Total	16.59

In 1931, 1932 and 1933 there were no net earnings of the incorporated business group, but rather there were losses from operation. The net income of other unincorporated business was as follows:

1931	Per Cent of National Income
1932	8.91
1933	8.42
	10.23

These figures are significant, particularly as the loss of incorporated business in 1931 was an amount equal to 2.97 per cent of the national income. In 1932 the loss was equivalent to 9.14 per cent of the national income, and in 1933 the loss was equivalent to 1.48 per cent of the national income. In this period (1930-1938) incorporated business drew from its reserves 20 billion dollars for the maintenance of plants and dividends to stockholders.

Important Questions.

These studies give rise to important questions: Since the net income from incorporated business averaged only 3.77 per cent of national income for the period 1929-1941 inclusive, and this group had approximately 20 billion less of reserves at the end of 1941 compared with the beginning of 1929, how in any after-the-war recovery can business attract necessary private capital to retool its plants for peacetime production, employ labor in peacetime manufacture, and thus furnish a domestic market for agriculture. Should not business and industry be permitted and required to accumulate adequate surplus reserves for use after the war?

Private enterprise and our American way of life depend upon equal justice to every group in our national life. Our markets, and especially our domestic market, reflect our liberty and freedom of opportunity.

For These Things We Are Thankful

It is not a sign of old age if you can remember the criticism that industry and agriculture were using too much machinery or that mass production in industry was not in the public interest. You are not old even if you can remember when science and industry began to spend money upon research in almost every line of endeavor.

All of us in the emergency of this total war can ask ourselves where we would be in our task of producing more food for ourselves and our allies, more highly mechanized machines for our fighting men, if industry and research had not supplied the organization for production, both in the shops and on the farm.

When we read about fighting planes and bomber planes, anti-aircraft guns, tanks, jeeps and machine guns, better and more deadly than anything the Axis has been able to produce, we must be thankful for our America of free enterprise and opportunity, which when fooled for war can outstrip any totalitarian economy.

When we think of the tremendous job of producing food, both for our armies and our allies, with limited help because our boys have gone to war, we can be thankful for our improved power machinery on our farms and in our factories.

Yes, every American has many things for which to be thankful—thankful for free men, intelligent, independent and unafraid; thankful that we have had an opportunity to develop all of the marvelous resources of our United States; thankful that alien ideas have not been permitted to limit the free flight of invention or to destroy our American ideals; thankful that an appreciation of the blessings of freedom and liberty and the dignity of every individual American has come to us before the fine-cutting edge of our liberties and equal opportunities has been dulled or destroyed.

WOMEN AT WAR

Janey

Janey closed the bedroom door and locked it. Alone at last! She threw back her head and heaved a deep sigh. Then she peeked out of the corner of her eye at the mirror to see whether she really, did look like Hedy LaMarr. Quite a lot, she decided.

And now to business. She drew forth from the bottom of her top bureau drawer the sheet of pink writing-paper and the envelope that she had been saving for this day. She sat down at the table by the window and dipped the pen into the bottle of green ink that her sister

Rose was such a pig about. She wrote, with beautiful arabesques, "Dear Mr. Morgenthau," and held her head back to admire this effort of the best pupil in penmanship class.

"Here are my stamps for a bond. $18.75. I started last Christmas when I got $3.00. Not counting 50 cents, I have earned all the rest, working one or more days a week at a local grocery store, and I'm quite proud," say I worked hard to get it."

Janey stared out of the window at Peterson's house and beyond at the big yard where the kids were playing football. She held her pen elegantly in air.

"Sitting here looking out the window, I see a peaceful little town, and I wonder how the world can be in such a turmoil and the people of this world can have such hate for their fellow men. So I'm proud to send these stamps because I know I'm helping to make the whole world peaceful again like our little town."

She signed her name with an important flourish, not forgetting a conspicuous "Miss" in front of the "Janey." After she had sealed the letter she went on staring out of the window. It really was awfully peaceful. Overhead she heard a plane go humming by through the sunny afternoon air.

Then the voice of her best friend, Betty, called from outside—"Janey!" In an instant Janey was on her feet and tearing downstairs and out. She was not Hedy LaMarr nor a deep philosopher any more, but exactly twelve years old.

(Letter from an actual communication in the files of the Treasury Department.)

FRANKFORT

A Christian flag, an American flag, a Service flag and an Honor Roll were dedicated at St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church Sunday morning. The service flag bore thirty stars in honor of boys of the church who have joined the armed forces.

The choir, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Erich Bizer, sang a special anthem, "The American Prayer." The text of Rev. Bizer's sermon, "My God and My Country" was taken from Matthew 22:21. "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." The service flag and honor roll were placed in the church vestibule.

"Haste Makes Waste" was the subject of Rev. Bizer's talk to members of St. Peter's Youth Fellowship at a meeting held at the church Sunday evening. Miss Annette Kohlhaugen led the devotionals. Games were played after the pledge to the flag and the singing of America. Miss Lois Weitendorf will lead devotionals at the next meeting which will be held Sunday evening, June 6. Thursday evening June 10 there will be a social meeting.

This evening at 7:30 members of the council of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church will meet in the church parlors.

Mrs. John Staff and Mrs. Henry Stellwagen will be hostesses when the members of the Martha Sewing Circle of St. Peter's church meet on June 10 at the church.

MOKENA

The Mokena Band Parents Association will hold its monthly meeting in the school gym, Wednesday evening, June 9th at 8 o'clock.

Wednesday evening Walter Schoe neck entertained a host of friends in honor of his birthday at the Hirsch tavern, Mokena with a bountiful supply of eats and refreshments.

The members of the Mokena school faculty have all been re-engaged with the exception of Miss Hennessey who is taking a position in another school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGuire entertained Chicago guests Memorial Day.
